The ETFs are actively managed and the Shares may trade above or below their net asset value. The trading price of shares may deviate significantly from net asset value during periods of market volatility. Shares are not FDIC insured, may lose value, and will have no bank guarantee. In addition to the normal risks of investing, foreign investing involves special risks, such as risk of loss from currency fluctuation or political or economic uncertainty. The ETFs may also invest in certain derivatives, which will subject the fund to the risks associated with derivatives. The value of derivatives may rise or fall more rapidly than other investments.

The ETF is new and has limited operating history.

Shares are not individually redeemable. Investors buy and sell shares on a secondary market. Only market makers or "authorized participants" may trade directly with the Fund(s), typically in blocks of 50,000 shares.

S&P 500 Financials Total Return Index - A total return index that is a sub-index of the S&P 500 Index covering companies in the S&P 500 Index that belong to the financial sector according to the Global Industry Classification, i.e. companies involved in activities such as banking, mortgage finance, consumer finance, insurance and financial investment. An investor can not invest directly in an index.

IOPV - A calculation disseminated by the stock exchange that approximates the Fund's NAV every 15 seconds throughout the trading day.
